
Running Your Own Business

If you are thinking of running your own business, you should start by discussing your plans with an experienced accountancy firm that can give you the help you need.

The more forethought you can give to the job of running your business, the more likely you are to succeed.

We can help you plan your business and answer some of the questions you should consider before you start:

- Are you the sort of person who can succeed in business?
- Have you any funds you can put into the business?
- Are you familiar with the legal requirements that will be placed on you as a business proprietor?
- Have you considered how much you will earn during your first year?
- Do you need help raising finance for your business?
- After business expenses, including taxation and national insurance, have you estimated what your salary and profit could be?
- Have you considered how you can minimise your tax liability so that you keep more of what you earn?
- Have you considered how technology can benefit your business?
- Have you decided how the internet can be used to your advantage?

There are many other matters you need to consider both before you go into business and during your all-important first year.

With careful planning and the right advice you could earn more and pay less in tax.
